

Marianna Psylla
Associate Professor of Political Communication

mppsilla@panteion.gr

Marianna Psylla is an Associate Professor of Political Communication in the Department of Communication, Mass Media and Culture at Panteion University of Social and Political Sciences. She received her Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Paris I Sorbonne in 1990. At the same university she completed her Masters in the fields of 1) Ideology and Political Culture and 2) Political and Social Communication. She was the Head of the Department of Communication Mass Media and Culture, for the period 2016-2018. She had the position of the Director of the Division of Mass-Media at the same department from 2011-2017. She is the Director of the Master Cultural Management, Communication and Media at the Department of Communication, Mass Media and Culture and Deputy Director of the interdepartmental Master Gender, Society, Policy.

She taught at the University of Crete at the Department of Sociology (1990-1993) and the Department of Philosophical and Social Studies (1993-1995). Since 1995, that she was elected as Faculty member at Panteion University until today, she has been teaching at the Department of Communication, Mass Media and Culture. At Postgraduate level she taught at the following Universities: 1) University of Crete (2004-2013) 2) Greek Open University (2005-2019) 3) Panteion University a) Interdepartmental Master in «Psychology and Means of Communication» (2007-2008) b) Master at the Department of the Political Science and History (2009-2015) c) Postgraduate Program New Media and Journalism of the Department of Communication, Media and Culture which since the academic year 2018 was renamed as Society of Information, Media and Technology (2015 until today), d) Interdepartmental Postgraduate Program Gender, Society and Policy (2015 until today). Moreover, she is a member of a Special Interdepartmental Committee responsible for the operation of the Aforementioned Postgraduate Program.

In 2018 was a visitor – researcher at the University of Lyon 2, with which she runs common research programs. In terms of mobility, she has taught in Erasmus+ European and International Program, as well as in many European Universities and at the University of Québec-Rimouski in Canada. Since 1997 until now she has participated in the European and International Program Erasmus+ and is currently responsible for 25 undergraduate and post-graduate programs between ‘Panteion’ University and 15 European countries and Canada. At present moment, she is the Institutional Coordinator–Scientific Supervisor of the Erasmus+ Program of Panteion University.

Furthermore, she is a member of the French and Hellenic Political Science Associations. She has a various and multiple research work. Since 2017-2021, she participates in the European Program CODES (Communication, Cultural Diversity, and Solidarity). She has been a Country Coordinator for Greece. The CODES is an Inter-universal program (Erasmus+keyaction1 : Strategic Partnerships) coordinated by the University of Lyon 2. The CODES program brings together the research teams of the universities of six countries (France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Romania) in order to connect directly tertiary education and society, as well as to define the role of education, in the management of diversity and multiculturalism. She is a Scientific Officer of the National Internship Program of Practice (2009-2018) for the Department Communication, Media and Culture of Panteion University. Since 2002 until now, she is the editor of the series “Communication–Politics” at the Typothito-G. Dardanos publishing house, Athens, Greece, where there have been published until today 10 (ten) book titles. She worked as a member of Scientific and Organizing Committees in a number of scientific conferences and workshops. She has published five books, 8 book chapters and journal articles in Greek, French and English.